IS THIS COURSE RIGHT FOR ME?

Before you choose this course, it's a good idea to think about the skills and knowledge you might need. The information below will help you decide if the course is a good fit for you, or if there are areas where you might need some extra support.

Information you need to know about the course

This program is designed for learners seeking practical skills in laboratory techniques, including manual, semi-automated, and fully automated methods. It covers routine basic tests as well as a limited range of specialist tests across various industry sectors. Students will learn to perform tests reliably, follow safety and laboratory procedures, and complete tasks accurately under supervision. Progress and practical skills are monitored through assessments and quality checks. The course is delivered as self-paced external study, supported by workplace or on-site observations to verify competency in practical tasks.

Students typically enrol in two units at a time and progress through the qualification at their own pace, with a six-month timeframe allocated for the completion of each enrolment period. Electives are chosen based on the workplace and available equipment, and each student receives an individualised study plan to ensure a viable learning pathway. Up to four imported electives may be included if relevant to the work outcomes.

The recommended sequence of delivery is:

- MSL944002 Maintain laboratory or field workplace safety
- MSL924005 Process and interpret data
- MSL934008 Maintain instruments and equipment
- MSL934009 Apply quality system and continuous improvement processes
- followed by Group A electives and all other elective units.

Students will select 12 electives from the available list in consultation with their lecturer, following packaging rules, with their selection recorded in their student file.

Course Pathways

This course aims to help you develop skills and knowledge that may support entry into a range of laboratory related job roles or further study of MSL50122 Diploma or Laboratory technology. Further details can be found on our website here.

If you think you have existing knowledge and skills in one or more of your units of study, you may apply for RPL. Should you apply for RPL, you will be supported through the process by a lecturer. For further information visit our website here.

This is a short-duration course structured around hands-on practical training, with assessments conducted through direct observation of skill demonstrations. In this context, Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) would not be a suitable option.
